The Residences of 488 University Avenue wins awards

AMEXON DEVELOPMENT

Corporation, who launched The Residences of 488 University Avenue, a 55-storey condominium tower in downtown Toronto, has won four international awards from the International Property Awards based in England — Best Architecture-Multiple Residences; Best Residential Highrise Development; Best Condominium Canada and Best Interior Design Canada

The International Property Awards are judged by a panel of more than 80 leading developers, architects, designers and other real estate professionals from around the world who cover every aspect of global residential and commercial real estate.

"We are extremely proud of what we are creating at The Residences of 488 University Avenue," says Jason Shiff, executive sales manager with Amexon. "We share these awards with our valued partners in the development, and know these honours are a testament that we are all undertaking a very special, stand-alone condominium development not only in Toronto, but now recognized throughout the world."

With architectural design by CORE Architects and interior design by II by IV Design, The Residences of 488 University Avenue provide Toronto's best value for luxury living in the marketplace, with 30,000 sq. ft. of amenities and elegant, state-of-the-art new residences.
